Preface

Read at your own risk.

This is about a relationship that ended in such a horrible way I keep going over it. I see psycho bitch dancing with my replacement.

So I thought I'd write it all down and get it off my mind.

Go fuck yourself if you don't like it.

In the raw source of this there is a table of who these folks are.

Chapter 1

The Fuckers

> The good times of today, are the sad thoughts of tomorrow.
> — Bob Marley, Quote

I heard these stories constantly. We'd drive by a parking lot and "I fucked Stan next to that light after a football game".

Redhalo

A car should get some credit. There's enough cum in the front passenger seat to literally overflow the seat. I know I've been sitting in it when it happened several times.

Apparently her and Stan fucked all over UAMS parking, War Memorial Stadium, the golf course, the zoo, the old "Ray Winder" baseball field, etc.

The best story about this car. psycho bitch ex bought the car for her and literally brought it to Stan's house while she was "watching" the kid with challenges. That night she would return to the house and fuck in the car for the first time.

Stan

The day his wife announces she has cancer psycho bitch gets some "well wishes" type stuff and goes to the house in Cabot to give them to Stan.

They fuck all night.

I'm pretty sure he didn't even go see his wife the next day and psycho bitch and him fucked again the next day ... and the next ...

That has always stood out in my mind as a WTF thing to do.

Had a son with challenges as I recall. They would fuck in his house with the kid there. I think psycho bitch was "watching" the kid.

This one psycho bitch was madly in love with. If he had asked she would have hitched up with him in his house with a pool raising the boy and been quite happy.

Jay

Never knew what this one did. Had money apparently.

Had a nice house and wife that was petite with challenges. They would fuck in the house with the wife there. Either I heard the same fucking in the wash room while wife was there or they did it a bunch as I heard it a lot. I always thought that was particularly crass.

He liked being told he had a big dick.

psycho bitch was worried about hurting the wife. You're fucking dropping bombs in everybody's life and that's what you're worried about?

Chris

I meet Chris a couple times. He is a really nice dude and enjoyed our conversations.

COVID he got something bad and nearly died. I would only see him after that he recovered from this incident.

He's a fat boy I was surprised she would do him.

Even though we were together something psycho bitch made me think they fucked after he recovered from the COVID issue. Something like "he couldn't do it anymore".

Insurance

She worked for him years earlier and I was surprised because she described him as fat, too fat to fuck in her car.

Unnamed

There's at least one more maybe more than that. There were a couple things she was always very secretive when she hinted around I can only guess this was a very close friend to everybody.

Me

I'm as guilty as anybody else in this document. I enjoyed what I was doing and didn't question.

My marriage was over for several years but I won't get a divorce until a year into psycho bitch and me.

We started close to her divorce after we went to a cementary and the night ended in the parking lot of a Tractor Supply Company. In front of it next to a busy highway. I had never done anything like that.

Chapter 2

A Wedding In The Present

I wish I could say no regrets
And no emotional debts
— Amy Winehouse, Tears Dry on Their Own

Chapter 3

Tractor Supply Parking Lot

I'm sick and tired and lonely, nothing left to say
Just thinking 'bout you, baby, takes all my night and day
— Coverdale and Page, Don't Leave Me This Way
